Dear Alyn

I would like to thank you for your group workshops at Mission for Youth during Term 3 this year. As an Alternative Education Programme for youth 'at risk', one of our key areas of education is to help students learn and understand the meaning of personal and community responsibility. Our students can be a particularly difficult group to effectively reach, because many come from home and family situations where violence is accepted and encouraged as the norm.

Your educative contributions were well received by students and your organisations work support's our general pro-social teaching and learning. Students learned to understand the significance of what peace means and that respect for each other, friends, families and our community can have a global impact. They also particularly enjoyed the cooperative games and working with the 'earth ball' outside.

We would very much like to invite the Peace Foundation back next year at some stage for similar sessions with next year's group of students.

I look forward to hearing from you again

Kind Regards

Mark Wallis
